Your government at work...

For those of you who have never travelled to the west, or southwest, cattle guards are horizontal steel rails placed at fence openings, in dug-out places in the roads adjacent to highways (sometimes across highways), to prevent cattle from crossing over that area. For some reason the cattle will not step on the guards, 'probably because they fear getting their feet caught between the rails.

A few months ago, Ex Prime Minister Kevin Rudd, received and was reading a report that there were over 100,000 cattle guards in New South Wales.

N.S.W. Cattle Grazers had protested his proposed changes in export policies, so he ordered the Minister of Agriculture to fire half of the 'cattle'guards immediately! Just to get back at the Cattle Grazers in N.S.W.

Before the Minister of Agriculture could respond and presumably try to straighten him out, the Head of the A.C.T.U. (Australian Council of Trade Unions) intervened with a request that...Before any 'cattle'guards were fired, they be given six months of retraining to assist them to find meaningful employment.

And these guys are running our country, OMG (Oh My God)!!

Master Chef has finished for another year...and this series created some conversation in the office, especially the show where the contestants were cooking for the Country Women's Association making scones and lamingtons. This brought the office talk to old recipes and I was talking about Gramma Pie and some of the staff had not tasted Gramma Pie.

Jamie Rutter (Office admin) brought in a Gramma for me (as her grandfather grows them) and I made some Gramma Pies. The staff enjoyed them and my neighbours enjoyed them.....but it was a huge gramma, I gave some to a friend who made Gramma pies for her parents—much to their delight and now I am wondering what else you can cook with Gramma? I searched the Internet and there are no other recipes....so I was wondering if any of you country cooks out there have any recipes for Gramma. I am also looking for a recipe for Pineapple Pickles— you can't find that on the Internet either. So if you have some recipes you would like share please send them in.....or call in to the New Holland stand at Agquip and say hello.

This year at Agquip is on 17th, 18th and 19th August —so come and look at the latest range of New Holland Tractors and Hay Making Equipment. Check out the new Rustler as well as the World's biggest Combine Harvester at Site QR/31-35. Hope to see you there.
